20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

In order to accomplish its mandate--to encourage and support labor-management partnership efforts throughout the executive branch of the Government-- NPC meetings, publications, and skills-building conferences provide guidance to agencies and unions on the nature of joint partnerships, the structures and processes that enhance collaborative dealings, and familiarize them with the resources that are available to assist in the initiation of such efforts.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The NPC is comprised of management officials, union officials, neutral representatives, and representatives from the Senior Executives Association and the Federal Managers Association. Each member contributes his or her expertise and experience in the formation of recommendations and guidance that facilitate labor-management partnership efforts.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

The NPC generally meets bimonthly (every other month). The NPC held a two-day skills-building conference in FY 1999 (May 18 &19) offering 10 separate workshops and 24 workshop sessions. An October 1999 conference was also scheduled. Public meetings featuring successful partnership presentations and the skills-building conferences are essential if the NPC is to successfully encourage and support a change in the culture of Federal labor-management relations in the executive branch of the Government so that managers, employees, and employees' elected union representatives work together as partners.

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The NPC was created to institutionalize labor-management partnerships throughout the executive branch of the Government so that managers, employees, and employees' elected union representatives work together to create a government that works better and costs less. Centralized leadership is necessary for this new approach to labor-management relations to be successful. Accordingly, the NPC serves the unique purpose of promoting and supporting labor-management partnership activities throughout the Government.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A
